GRUESOME FIND IN CHICAGO.

An Entire Family of Seven Found Gnawed by Rats and Decomposed.

Chicago, April 21. Dead in a stuffy hed room in a crowded tenement quarter in State street, the bodies of an entire family were found tonight, gnawed by rate and in were found fornight, gnawed by rats and in an advanced stage of decomposition. The police incline to the theory of murder by notion. The family is that of Jones Butler and consisted of Butler, his wife and five children. They had been dead for eight days. It is thought that despondency, due to brooding over the conditions surrounding his family, who were in utter poverty, caused Butlor to go insane and take the fives of all seven and then commit suicids.

No man or ledy of men can acquire $100,00,000 in a few years without grossly defrauding their fellows by securing rates and facilities for public curriage of which others are deputived. That—this unjust discrimination—is the slight of hand by which the marvel is produced, the key to the riddle which has amazed and alarmed the uniton.

It was no "amarchist," no "agitator," no "demagogue" who made that statement, but Martin A. Kupp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, speaking monopoly has been built up and maintained.

All the people suffer from this partner, ship between the railroads and the trusts, saild Mr. Kuapp.

"When the natural advantages of capital are augmented by arbitrary deductions from that people the combination is powerful enough to force all rivals from the field. Production is controlled, wages fixed, prices raised to the desired profit, monopoly reigns.

The ruibroads and the trusts care nothing for the law. For years they have laughed at the interstate commission's effects is interfere with their beigandage. They burn their books when forced upon the witress stand smile explically and profess to have out their memory. A power, organized for pilage, has grown up within the state.
